SunDog Solar Receives Senior America's Team Green "Environmental Responsibility Award"

Croton-on-Hudson, NY – June 16, 2007 – SunDog Solar @ SOLAQUA recently accepted an "Environmental Responsibility Award" from Howard Levin of Senior America's Team Green. The award was presented to SunDog Solar at the Clearwater Festival, a grassroots event celebrating the Hudson River and environmental awareness, held annually at Croton Point Park in Croton-on-Hudson, NY.

Howard Levin DBA Senior America's Team Green Promotions, Beacon, NY, has established this Environmental Responsibility Award. Senior America's Team Green Promotions issues this award to recognize companies that are helping Americans create a more eco-friendly world.

"It was an honor to be among the companies recognized by Team Green. It's our responsibility as good corporate citizens to help people become more socially and environmentally responsible through solar energy," said Betsy Ferris Wyman, V.P. Sales, SunDog Solar.

"These companies are promoting the greening of America to put our nation back in balance with the earth, and Senior America's Team Green is proud to officially recognize them," said Levin. Senior America's Team Green Promotions represents environmentally friendly companies. Howard "Lev" Levin is a philosopher who believes that "America is out of balance, but we must continue to inspire other nations. We all have a stake in determining in which direction we must go to ensure our children's future and our quality of life."
